WOULD CONTROL 500 ELEVATORS IN THE NORTHWEST

1930 WHEAT CROP SITUATION IS UNDER DISCUSSION AT MINNEAPOLIS

AFFILIATION PROPOSAL SUBMITTED TO TERMINAL BODY AND GRAIN CORPORATION

Minneapolis, Minn., April 29.—(U.P.)—A gigantic merger which would handle the northwest 1930 wheat crop was under discussion today.

The action would unite the farmers Union Terminal Association of St. Paul and the Cooperative Farmers Northwest Grain Corporation combined, the associations would control 500 elevators which yearly handle at least 100,000,000 bushels of wheat.

The affiliation proposal has been submitted to the executive committee of both associations for action, according to a statement issued by M. W. Thatcher of the St. Paul association and Harry A. Feltus of the Minneapolis association.

In a joint statement, Thatcher and Feltus said, "this arrangement contemplates that the Farmers Union Terminal Association will operate their terminal elevator properties on all grain exchanges for the Co-operative Farmers Northwest Grain Corporation and its elevator members."

"The Co-operative Farmers Northwest Grain Corporation is an affiliate of the Farmers Union Terminal Association will do the financing for its member-farmers elevators. The Co-operative Farmers Northwest with completion of this affiliation with the Farmers Union Terminal Association immediately can make available to its elevator members all the advantages contemplated in its original setup."

The statement concluded with that statement that the merger was "understood to be the wishes of the federal farm board and the Farmers National Grain Corporation and its policies as outlined in the federal farm marketing act."

COOLNESS OF REV. R. L. SMITH AVERTS PANIC

FIRE STARTING IN BASEMENT OF FAIRBULT BUILDING ALARMED DINERS

REV. SMITH CONTINUES HIS ADDRESS THE BIG AUDIENCE RETURN TO SEATS

Fairbault, Minn., April 29.—(U.P.)—Coolness displayed by Rev. Roy L. Smith, Minneapolis, averted a serious panic last night when fire disrupted the tenth anniversary dinner of the Fairbault Chamber of Commerce at the Immaculate Conception Parish House.

As the minister delivered his speech before the 300 assembled persons, fire started in the basement of the building.

Dense clouds of smoke billowed into the crowded room and someone started a rush for the doors, crying "fire."

Continuing his talk without hesitation, Rev. Smith persuaded the audience to return to their seats and then file out orderly.

Assisted by L. E. Swanberg the minister soon had the room cleared in an orderly fashion by the time firemen arrived. Through the prompt handling of the guests, the entire group was brought from the building without injury.

Damage to the parish house was slight.

NOTE—Rev. Smith is well known in Brainerd and his short sermons were printed in the Dispatch.

LEVIATHAN BRINGS STIMSON AND PARTY HOME

FORMULATED TREATY WHICH HOLDS HOPE OF RENUNCIATION OF WAR

FIGHTERS FOR PEACE GIVEN WELCOME AS THEY LANDED IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, April 29.—(U.P.)—The same vessel that carried American troops to Europe during the world war brought Secretary of State Stimson and his assistants home today with a treaty that holds out the hope that some day nations will renounce war.

The Leviathan, mighty flagship of the United States lines, hove to at Quarantine, and far up the bay the city tug, Macon, chugged out to salute Stimson, Senator Joseph Robinson of Arkansas, Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow and members of their party.

Police Commissioner Grover Whalen, chairman of the mayor's reception committee, who has greeted warriors, generals and kings, was on hand to welcome the fighters for peace.

There the naval conference delegates—who rode out to sea on the George Washington almost four months ago—were to receive the official greeting of the city of New York. It was to be extended by Acting Mayor Joseph McKee because of the illness of Mayor James J. Walker.

As the Leviathan neared the home port the great liner was flanked on either side by destroyers, with a third leading and the silver dirigible Los Angeles overhead.

After a civic reception in New York, Secretary of State Stimson and the other delegates planned to catch the earliest train to Washington late today.

The Los Angeles dropped a bag of special mail for Stimson and the delegates on the Leviathan's deck late yesterday after the big airship and three destroyers greeted the liner near Nantuxet light. Two attempts were necessary to accomplish the mail delivery and on the second the bag narrowly missed going down the middle smokestack. It caught in the radio antennae. The crew retrieved it and the mail was delivered.

Washington, April 29.—(U.P.)—Secretary of State Stimson and part of the American naval conference delegation are expected to arrive here late today and will present the London naval treaty of 1930 to President Hoover at the White House tomorrow morning.

Mr. Hoover probably will submit the treaty to the senate before the week end. Only four of the seven American delegates will meet the president. Ambassador Dawes and Ambassador Gibson are at their respective posts, London and Brussels. Senator Reed, Rep. Pa., did not return with his colleagues aboard the Leviathan.

MRS. McCORMICK, SENATOR DENEEN ASKED TO TESTIFY

New Charges are Drawn Into the Parker Fray in Senate as Borah Continues His Attack

MAKES LEGAL ASSAULT ON CONFIRMATION

ATTACKS PARKER DECISION UPHOLDING THE ANTI-UNION CONTRACT

OTHER SENATORS INQUIRING INTO NEW PHASES OF THE CASE

By PAUL R. MALLON

Washington, April 29.—(U.P.)—New charges were drawn into the Parker fray in the senate today as Senator Borah, Rep., Idaho, planned to continue his strictly legal attack on the confirmation of the North Carolina republican jurist, John Parker, to be a supreme court justice.

While Borah based his opposition solely upon Parker's decision upholding the anti-union or "yellow dog" contract, other senators were inquiring into new phases of the case brought forward at the opening of the debate.

What appeared to be the most important of these was mentioned by Sen. Black, Dem., Ala., who read an account of charges that Parker, as a special prosecutor of war frauds cases, withheld from the court evidence of the innocence of those he was prosecuting.

The case which is being investigated by Black and also by Parker's supporters was instituted by former Attorney General Daugherty against the United States Harness Co. in 1921. Accounts of the trial reaching Judge D. Lawrence Croner, Richmond, Va., made a statement to the jury contending Parker failed to produce evidence in his possession showing the innocence of the accused.

"If this is true, Parker should not get a single vote for confirmation in this body," said Black.

Parker's first defender, Senator Overman, Dem., N. C., expressed doubt that the accusation could be true in view of Parker's excellent legal character. He also had not heard of a new charge by Ralph Hayes, New York attorney, contending Parker made attempts to get "unlawful oaths of secrecy" from a grand jury in the war fraud cases.

These developments and the Borah speech indicated the debate would extend several days more, preventing a final vote before the end of the week.

A bill to relief unemployment occupied first place on the senate calendar.

WOMAN AND HER LITTLE BABY ARE KIDNAPED BY GYPSIES

Boston, April 29.—(U.P.)—The kidnapping of a woman and her 11-month-old baby climaxed two holdups by four gypsy gunmen in the north and west ends today.

Mrs. Peter Marks and her child were whisked away in an automobile bearing Illinois number plates after four Roman gunmen had robbed the woman's husband of $400 in a raid on his popular street apartment.

Previously the same gang had held up Ephraim Marks of the north end, a cousin of the second victim, and robbed him of $470. The relationship between the two victims of the robbers led police to believe that the holdups and kidnapping were the outgrowth of a family feud.

but it was temporarily shelved in favor of the Parker case.

The legislative appropriation bill, providing for congressional salaries and those of capitol attaches, is the business of the day before the house.

The Omnibus rivers and harbors bill, passed by the house last week, was before the senate commerce committee today. It was predicted by some senators that this measure, carrying authorizations for engineering projects in hundreds of localities, would be materially changed before receiving senate approval.

The senate lobby committee today sought further amplification of a recent report that President Hoover was beginning to doubt whether the prohibition laws can be enforced.

The committee had before it Capt. W. H. Stayton, chairman of the Board of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. His opinion of Mr. Hoover's views was contained in a letter read before the committee recently and was based, he said, on informal talks with congressmen and other officials.

Stayton is in charge of the association's Washington office. The committee called him to learn what lobbying the organization has done here. Henry H. Curran, president of the association, who completed two weeks of testimony Friday, denied his group conducted a lobby in the capitol.

Meanwhile, the committee was still keeping secret the sensational document taken from the association's files which lists dry congressmen who are alleged to drink. They have not yet decided whether to make it public.

Plans looking toward an investigation of senatorial campaign expenditures were to be amplified at a meeting of the senatorial campaign investigating committee today.

PROSECUTION IS BALKED IN GOV. KOHLER TRIAL

CHARGES WISCONSIN GOVERNOR WITH VIOLATING CORRUPT PRACTICES ACT

ENDEAVORING TO REMOVE WISCONSIN EXECUTIVE FROM HIS OFFICE

By WILLARD R. SMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent

Sheboygan, Wis., April 29.—Repeatedly balked by the court's rulings, the prosecution renewed its efforts today in the trial of Governor Walter J. Kohler to show by documentary evidence that he violated the corrupt practices act and should be removed from office.

When the session started Special Prosecutor Harold M. Wilkie had on hand the books of Kohler's $44,000,000 plumbing fixtures enterprise. It was Wilkie's admitted hope that the books would reveal definitely that the governor, through his concern, had spent far more than the $4,000 legally allowed him for campaign expenses.

Counsel for both the state and the governor engaged in legal maneuvers that indicated no matter what the jury's verdict is at the end of the present trial, the question of Kohler's guilt or innocence will be carried on appeal to a higher court.

Both sides are entitled to appeal since the proceedings are in the nature of a civil suit.

After introducing evidence indicating that perhaps as much as $100,000 was spent by various organizations and individuals in Kohler's campaign, the prosecution was restricted by Judge Gustav Gehrz to showing only those expenditures which were made or controlled by the governor.

This and other rulings of the court adverse to the attempts of the state to lay upon Kohler responsibility for most of the money spent in his behalf, have placed the prosecution under the necessity of trying to prove that the spenders of the large amounts were in a legal sense agents authorized by Kohler to act for him.

Gasoline Prices Advanced One Cent in the East

New York, April 29.—(U.P.)—Standard Oil Company of New York today advanced gasoline prices throughout its territory one cent a gallon, meeting the advance put into effect this morning by the Tide Water Oil Co. ## SOVIET RUSSIA SENDS A NOTE TO POLAND MONDAY

Moscow, April 29.—(U.P.)—The Soviet government, it was learned today, sent a note to Poland yesterday in reference to the recent discovery of an infernal machine in the Soviet legation at Warsaw.

The note called attention to the "extraordinary danger of the situation."

The bomb, which was discovered in the Soviet legation at Warsaw before it exploded, was said by police there to have had only a small charge of explosive.

News of the discovery, however, stimulated the recent opposition of some Soviet officials toward Poland, and the incident was widely discussed here.

NEW VIOLENCE AT OHIO STATE PENITENTIARY

GUARDS FIRE WITH SAWED-OFF SHOTGUNS ON UNRULY PRISONERS

20 CONVICTS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN INJURED

By HARRY W. SHARPE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Columbus, Ohio, April 29.—The Ohio state penitentiary where 322 convicts burned to death only a few days ago, was the scene of new violence today.

Guards fired with sawed-off shotguns on prisoners when they became unruly. Twenty convicts were reported to have been wounded.

Martial law was declared within the prison. Warden Preston E. Thomas surrendered command of the penitentiary to Col. Robert Haubrich, commanding the troops and a new machine gun unit was sent from the regular army post at Fort Hayes to assist national guardsmen in maintaining order.

Col. Haubrich entered the cell block where the trouble centered and where prisoners were shouting "butchers" at the guards. He spoke to the convicts.

"There'll be no more shooting here," he said he told them, "except on my orders."

"Some of the convicts called out 'we'll play ball,' he reported.

It was believed that Haubrich's entry into the prison marked the end of the morning's violence.

Gov. Myers Y. Cooper issued a statement while the trouble was in progress saying that "order must be restored" and explaining that "the civil authority of the warden has been reinforced with such use of the national guardmen as is necessary."

The disaster was over in an hour and with Colonel Haubrich in control, the prisoners started marching to the mess hall for lunch.

Columbus, Ohio, April 29.—(U.P.)—During the prison riot today seven prisoners in death house, awaiting execution for murder, were liberated. Three of these were rounded up and presumably by rebellious prisoners, removed to the city jail for safe keeping. The others, Lawrence Dull, Ohio, George Williams, Cleveland; John Richardson, Akron, and Lee Akers, Akron, refused to leave, declaring they "would just as soon be shot as electrocuted."

CLARENCE DARROW WILL NOT DEFEND LILA JIMERSON

Buffalo, N. Y., April 29.—(U.P.)—Clarence Darrow, famous criminal lawyer and humanitarian, virtually has decided not to undertake the defense of Lila Jimerson and Nancy Bowen, Indian women charged with the murder of Mrs. Clothilde Marchand.

After a breakfast conference here today with persons acquainted with the details of the case, Darrow said he probably would not join the defense staff but reserved "the old lady's right" to change his mind.

SIX PERSONS LEAP INTO FIRE NETS

FLAMES DESTROY A FIVE-STORY APARTMENT BUILDING TODAY

CHILDREN LOSING LIVES WERE LORRAINE GARLBERG 8 AND SISTER LORETTA 6

Minneapolis, Minn., April 29.—(U.P.)—Two small girls burned to death and half a dozen other persons were forced to leap into fire nets when flames destroyed a five-story apartment building today.

The children, Lorraine Garlberg, 8, and her sister Loretta, 6, became separated from their parents in the dense smoke which filled the apartment house.

The parents of the children who lost the girls as they sought frantically to escape from the fourth floor of the building were finally forced to leap to a fire net.

Cause of the fire was being investigated by fire marshals, after one of the residents reported being awakened by a crash "which sounded like a giant firecracker."

The two girls were found lying on the fourth floor of the building, their arms about each other.

Four other residents of the apartment were forced to drop into fire nets from windows when they were trapped by the sudden rush of the flames.

Several were taken to the General hospital for treatment for burns and injuries. Mrs. Garlberg was taken to the hospital in a critical condition, suffering from cuts and burns and in a hysterical state.

WEFELD WILL NOT RETIRE FROM RACE FOR TOGA

HAS NO INTENTION OF DROPPING CANDIDACY FOR U. S. SENATE

FARMER-LABOR RIFT BETWEEN TWIN CITIES, SOUTH STATE NOT PATCHED UP

St. Paul, April 29.—(U.P.)—Hope of reconciliation between the Twin City and southern Minnesota factions of the farmer-labor party appeared remote today when Knud Wefald, Hawley, "regular" candidate for senatorial nomination, announced that he had no intention of withdrawing from the race.

The southern Minnesota group is supporting Ernest Lundeen, former Minneapolis congressman, for the nomination. Leaders of the "rump" convention of the party held at Rochester Sunday had hoped to bring the factions together through obtaining Wefald's withdrawal.

Wefald's statement was also thought to put an end to talk of bringing Magnus Johnson, former senator, into the field.

Farmer-labor leaders who waited for Wefald's decision before bringing forward a congressional candidate from the ninth district today proposed the name of Ralph Davis, Moorhead. Thomas Vollum, Erskine, had previously declined to run.

Additional filings with Mike Holm, secretary of state, included, August H. Andresen, Red Wing, third district congressman, who filed for re-election and Fred B. Blum, state representative from the forty-first district, who also filed for another term.

New Charges are Drawn Into the Parker Fray in Senate as Borah Continues His Attack

MAKES LEGAL ASSAULT ON CONFIRMATION

ATTACKS PARKER DECISION UPHOLDING THE ANTI-UN- ION CONTRACT

OTHER SENATORS INQUIRING INTO NEW PHASES OF THE CASE

By PAUL R. MALLON

Washington, April 29.—(U.P.)—New charges were drawn into the Parker fray in the senate today as Senator Borah, Repn., Idaho, planned to continue his strictly legal attack on the confirmation of the North Carolina republican jurist, John Parker, to be a supreme court justice.

While Borah based his opposition solely upon Parker's decision upholding the anti-union or "yellow dog" contract, other senators were inquiring into new phases of the case brought forward at the opening of the debate.

What appeared to be the most important of these was mentioned by Sen. Black, Dem., Ala., who read an account of charges that Parker, as a special prosecutor of war frauds cases, withheld from the court evidence of the innocence of those he was prosecuting.

The case which is being investigated by Black and also by Parker's supporters was instituted by former Attorney General Daugherty against the United States Harness Co. in 1921. Accounts of the trial reaching Black allege that Federal District Judge D. Lawrence Croner, Richmond, Va., made a statement to the jury contending Parker failed to produce evidence in his possession showing the innocence of the accused.

"If this is true, Parker should not get a single vote for confirmation in this body," said Black.

Parker's first defender, Senator Overman, Dem., N. C., expressed doubt that the accusation could be true in view of Parker's excellent legal character. He also had not heard of a new charge by Ralph Hayes, New York attorney, contending Parker made attempts to get "unlawful oaths of secrecy" from a grand jury in the war fraud cases.

These developments and the Borah speech indicated the debate would extend several days more, preventing a final vote before the end of the week.

A bill to relief unemployment occupied first place on the senate calendar.

PROSECUTION IS BALKED IN GOV. KOHLER TRIAL

CHARGES WISCONSIN GOVERNOR WITH VIOLATING CORRUPT PRACTICES ACT

ENDEAVORING TO REMOVE WIS- CONSIN EXECUTIVE FROM HIS OFFICE

By WILLARD R. SMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent

Sheboygan, Wis., April 29.—Repeatedly balked by the court's rulings, the prosecution renewed its efforts today in the trial of Governor Walter J. Kohler to show by documentary evidence that he violated the corrupt practices act and should be removed from office.

When the session started Special Prosecutor Harold M. Wilkie had on hand the books of Kohler's $44,000,000 plumbing fixtures enterprise. It was Wilkie's admitted hope that the books would reveal definitely that the governor, through his concern, had spent far more than the $4,000 legally allowed him for campaign expenses.

Counsel for both the state and the governor engaged in legal maneuvers that indicated no matter what the jury's verdict is at the end of the present trial, the question of Kohler's guilt or innocence will be carried on appeal to a higher court.

Both sides are entitled to appeal since the proceedings are in the nature of a civil suit.

After introducing evidence indicating that perhaps as much as $100,000 was spent by various organizations and individuals in Kohler's campaign, the prosecution was restricted by Judge Gustav Gehrz to showing only those expenditures which were made or controlled by the governor.

This and other rulings of the court adverse to the attempts of the state to lay upon Kohler responsibility for most of the money spent in his behalf, have placed the prosecution under the necessity of trying to prove that the spenders of the large amounts were in a legal sense agents authorized by Kohler to act for him.

SOVIET RUSSIA SENDS A NOTE TO POLAND MONDAY

Moscow, April 29.—(U.P.)—The Soviet government, it was learned today, sent a note to Poland yesterday in reference to the recent discovery of an internal machine in the Soviet legation at Warsaw.

The note called attention to the "extraordinary danger of the situation."

The bomb, which was discovered in the Soviet legation at Warsaw before it exploded, was said by police there to have had only a small charge of explosive.

News of the discovery, however, stimulated the recent opposition of some Soviet officials toward Poland, and the incident was widely discussed here.

NEW VIOLENCE AT OHIO STATE PENITENTIARY

GUARDS FIRE WITH SAWED- OFF SHOTGUNS ON UNRULY PRISONERS

20 CONVICTS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN IN- JURED

By HARRY W. SHARPE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Columbus, Ohio, April 29.—The Ohio state penitentiary where 322 convicts burned to death only a few days ago, was the scene of new violence today.

Guards fired with sawed-off shotguns on prisoners when they became unruly. Twenty convicts were reported to have been wounded.

Martial law was declared within the prison. Warden Preston E. Thomas surrendered command of the penitentiary to Col. Robert H. Haubrich, commanding the troops and a new machine gun unit was sent from the regular army post at Fort Hayes to assist national guardsmen in maintaining order.

Col. Haubrich entered the cell block where the trouble centered and where prisoners were shouting "butchers" at the guards. He spoke to the convicts.

"There'll be no more shooting here," he said he told them, "except on my orders."

"Some of the convicts called out 'we'll play ball,' he reported.

It was believed that Haubrich's entry into the prison marked the end of the morning's violence.

Gov. Myers Y. Cooper issued a statement while the trouble was in progress saying that "order must be restored" and explaining that "the civil authority of the warden has been reinforced with such use of the national guardsmen as is necessary."

The disaster was over in an hour and with Colonel Haubrich in control, the prisoners started marching to the mess hall for lunch.

Columbus, Ohio, April 29.—(U.P.)—During the prison riot today seven prisoners in death house, awaiting execution for murder, were liberated. Three of these were rounded up and presumably by rebellious prisoners, removed to the city jail for safe keeping. The others, Lawrence Dull, Ohio, George Williams, Cleveland; John Richardson, Akron, and Lee Akers, Akron, refused to leave, declaring they "would just as soon be shot as electrocuted."

MAKES 'CHUTE JUMP OF 2,800 FEET WHEN PLANE CAUGHT FIRE

Dixon Springs, Tenn., April 29.—(U.P.)—When his plane caught fire near here today, William P. Richardson, 26-year-old Detroit flier, made a parachute jump from 2,800 feet. One leg and an arm were broken when he landed in a tree.

S. L. Richardson, brother of the newest member of the caterpillar club, saw the accident from an accompanying plane. The fliers were en route from Atlanta to Detroit.

CLARENCE DARROW WILL NOT DEFEND LILA JIMERSON

Buffalo, N. Y., April 29.—(U.P.)—Clarence Darrow, famous criminal lawyer and humanitarian, virtually has decided not to undertake the defense of Lila Jimerson and Nancy Bowen, Indian women charged with the murder of Mrs. Clothilde Marchand.

After a breakfast conference here today with persons acquainted with the details of the case, Darrow said he probably would not join the defense staff but reserved "the old lady's right" to change his mind.

SIX PERSONS LEAP INTO FIRE NETS

FLAMES DESTROY A FIVE-STORY APARTMENT BUILDING TODAY

CHILDREN LOSING LIVES WERE LORRAINE GARLBERG 8 AND SISTER LORETTA 6

Minneapolis, Minn., April 29.—(U.P.)—Two small girls burned to death and half a dozen other persons were forced to leap into fire nets when flames destroyed a five-story apartment building today.

The children, Lorraine Garlberg, 8, and her sister Loretta, 6, became separated from their parents in the dense smoke which filled the apartment house.

The parents of the children who lost the girls as they sought frantically to escape from the fourth floor of the building were finally forced to leap to a fire net.

Cause of the fire was being investigated by fire marshals, after one of the residents reported being awakened by a crash "which sounded like a giant firecracker."

The two girls were found lying on the fourth floor of the building, their arms about each other.

Four other residents of the apartment were forced to drop into fire nets from windows when they were trapped by the sudden rush of the flames.

Several were taken to the General hospital for treatment for burns and injuries. Mrs. Garlberg was taken to the hospital in a critical condition, suffering from cuts and burns and in a hysterical state.

WEFELD WILL NOT RETIRE FROM RACE FOR TOGA

HAS NO INTENTION OF DROP- PING CANDIDACY FOR U. S. SENATE

FARMER-LABOR RIFT BETWEEN TWIN CITIES, SOUTH STATE NOT PATCHED UP

St. Paul, April 29.—(U.P.)—Hope of reconciliation between the Twin City and southern Minnesota factions of the farmer-labor party appeared remote today when Knud Wefald, Hawley, "regular" candidate for senatorial nomination, announced that he had no intention of withdrawing from the race.

The southern Minnesota group is supporting Ernest Lundeen, former Minneapolis congressman, for the nomination. Leaders of the "rump" convention of the party held at Rochester Sunday had hoped to bring the factions together through obtaining Wefald's withdrawal.

Wefald's statement was also thought to put an end to talk of bringing Magnus Johnson, former senator, into the field.

Farmer-labor leaders who waited for Wefald's decision before bringing forward a congressional candidate from the ninth district today proposed the name of Ralph Davis, Moorhead. Thomas Vollum, Erskine, had previously declined to run.

Additional filings with Mike Holm, secretary of state, included, August H. Andresen, Red Wing, third district congressman, who filed for re-election and Fred B. Blum, state representative from the forty-first district, who also filed for another term.

AWARDING AIR MAIL CONTRACTS ON MILEAGE BASIS

Washington, April 29.—(U.P.)—The Watres bill authorizing award of air mail contracts on a mileage instead of a poundage basis was signed by President Hoover today.

The bill was enacted to encourage commercial aviation and in response to pleas by Postmaster General Brown that the industry was in danger of a severe setback.

$100,000 DIAMOND ROBBERY REPORTED IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Wis., April 29.—(U.P.)—A $100,000 diamond robbery was reported to Milwaukee police this afternoon from Haven, Wis., 10 miles north of Sheboygan.

August Axt, wealthy Milwaukee diamond importer, telephoned that he and a companion, Manfred Washburn, had been held up by four bandits and jewels valued at upward of $100,000 stolen.

"SHEIK'S WIFE"
BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

WHAT HAS HAPPENED THUS FAR.

YOUNG and unsophisticated Eve Reade meets Kenneth Wilmer, noted artist. They fall in love. Eve's friend, Mary, tries to convince her the match is unsuitable. Ken introduces Eve to his unconventional artist colony set. When Ken leaves a party with Fifi Devoe, Eve is hurt. Nory O'Reil, author friend of Ken's also interested in Eve, drives her to Fifi's. Ken is there and rushes to Eve, telling of his longing for her. After painting Eve the next day, Ken gives a party.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XIII.

A LITTLE stir went around the table and Nory, at Eve's left, boomed in a low voice, "Wine!" and grinned at Ken. A special occasion, this party, and Eve flushed with a mounting excitement. She had conjured up visions of such gaiety; back in their school days Mary and she had let their imagination run riot around just such sparkling affairs. But never had she expected to be the breathless center of one with Kenneth Wilmer—all of the heroes of all their radiant dreams—at her side.

Now old Herman was lifting the first bottle, winding it with a napkin, holding it dramatically; now he was pulling the cork, muscles in his neck standing out with the effort; now it came away with a "pop!" like a pistol report. Everybody breathed a long "Ah-h-h!"

Thin golden wine in thin shining glasses appearing magically from somewhere; everybody smiling, waiting, looking at Ken.

He got up slowly, stood very tall and handsome and merry, though his dark eyes dreamed. Then he raised his glass. "To beauty," he said, "and love. A toast to Miss Evelyn Reade!"

They all arose—all but Eve—making her little bows. This was a popular toast and she could only smile back at them, thrilled through and through, hoping she did not seem too embarrassed, loving them all.

And when they were seated Herman marched solemnly around the table filling the glasses again and everybody began to cry "O'Reil!" Now Nory was on his feet, thin and long and winsome with his rough chair and the twinkle in his eyes. He was making a little speech about birthdays, this having been represented, he declared, as a birthday party. Well, then, since no one had stepped up to claim it, he proposed to make it the birthday of a good guy—Eros, no less.

It all was very whimsical, very sweet, and Eve kept thinking "No wonder everybody likes his stories—no wonder when he can be so funny and sad and brilliant all at the same time."

"We drink," Nory proposed, "to friendship." And his head bent toward Eve.

She caught her breath, brought out a smothered "Oh!" staring at the blur of faces. But they were waiting for her and so she, too, must rise, touch her glass to Nory's and Ken's, sip a little of the bubbling wine.

There were more toasts and everybody made it plain that she was guest of honor. And long before the merriment swirled to its height with everybody talking a little too loudly, laughing a great deal at nothing, she began to feel light and gleeful and responsible and very much more like a native daughter of The Lane than like a little New England girl who never had tasted champagne before.

Oddly enough it was Nory who cupped his hand over Eve's glass when old Herman would have filled it the third time. And it was Nory who started the move toward

"Dryads need sleep," he told her softly under the clamor.

"But we're having such a scrumptious time, Nory dear."

The dark, rough head bent lower; he looked very weary.

"Don't lose yourself, Eve. You are too sweet—"

He straightened himself suddenly, went on in the teasing, careless tone he always had used with her.

"You listen to uncle, infant. Want to get all dragged and homely, like Jan over there? Hard, like Elma? Besides," he added, watching her thoughtfully, "this is bad for Ken. Won't work after a spree and he's always overdue with his stuff."

"Of course we'll go!" Eve cried. "Right away, Nory... why, I just never imagined—make them come at once. How fine of you to look out for Ken—"

She gave him a hurried, preoccupied smile and was too busy and birds wouldn't care for the water. Let them, Eve thought with a delighted giggle, try to criticize The Lane to her again!

Nory left abruptly since no one said good-nights here, and now she was alone with Ken. He was asking if she had liked it, if she liked him, if she always would, if she would pose tomorrow—and the next day—and the day after that.

Then they were under the lilacs and syringas and she was clinging to him and he was whispering, "Oh, don't go, Eve—don't go. Come away somewhere, Eve—"

"Where, Ken?"

"Anywhere—we'll drive and drive. Go on forever, you and I. I love you so, Eve. And you're always leaving me—always leaving me alone—"

Long after she had gone in she saw him from her window still standing there, arm along the top of the gate, head down on his arm.

There were more toasts and everybody made it plain that she was guest of honor. And long before the merriment swirled to its height with everybody talking a little too loudly, laughing a great deal at nothing, she began to feel light and gleeful and irresponsible and very much more like a native daughter of The Lane than like a little New England girl who never had tasted champagne before.

Oddly enough it was Nory who cupped his hand over Eve's glass when old Herman would have filled it the third time. And it was Nory who started the move homeward.

"Dryads need sleep," he told her softly under the clamor.

"But we're having such a scrumptious time, Nory dear."

The dark, rough head bent lower; he looked very weary.

"Don't lose yourself, Eve. You are too sweet—"

He straightened himself suddenly, went on in the teasing, careless tone he always had used with her. "You listen to uncle, infant. Want to get all dragged and homely, like Jan over there? Hard, like Elma? Besides," he added, watching her thoughtfully, "this is bad for Ken. Won't work after a spree and he's always overdue with his stuff."

"Of course we'll go!" Eve cried. "Right away, Nory... why, I just never imagined—make them come at once. How fine of you to look out for Ken—"

She gave him a hurried, preoccupied smile and was too busy

and birds wouldn't care for the water. Let them, Eve thought with a delighted giggle, try to criticize The Lane to her again!

Nory left abruptly since no one said good-nights here, and now she was alone with Ken. He was asking if she had liked it, if she liked him, if she always would, if she would pose tomorrow—and the next day—and the day after that.

Then they were under the lilacs and syringas and she was clinging to him and he was whispering, "Oh, don't go, Eve—don't go. Come away somewhere, Eve—"

"Where, Ken?"

"Anywhere—we'll drive and drive. Go on forever, you and I love you so, Eve. And you're always leaving me—always leaving me alone—"

Long after she had gone in she saw him from her window still standing there, arm along the top of the gate, head down on his arm.

Plumb blossoms fell in a soft, white shower and apple blossoms, pink and fragrant, opened in their stead. The gold of forsythia vanished as the sweet pulses of lilacs swayed in the sun. Shaded garden corners were white with valley lilies and early ranunculus were bright clouds on well-kept lawns.

"Don't lose yourself, Eve. You're too sweet," said Nory.

bustling about, persuading Ken not to have Herman bring more wine, coaxing him away, to see that Nory's own smile was a little grim and that a shadow lay in his eyes.

What a party it had been! They swarmed into the car, indifferent to Ken's reckless driving, laughing and shouting and singing as he dropped them at their homes. No wonder the tribe was talked about if they acted this way. But why should they care? Like stepping into another element, it was, moving from that world where everyone was staid and unimaginative and didn't know how to play, into this. They didn't approve of the tribe, those circumspect ones, but that was all very well. A fish wouldn't approve of air to live in for shy April had given place to demure May and the feel of Summer was in the air.

And Eve, Mary declared, had joined The Lane colony. But Mary did not care, really; she was proud of Eve's posing for Kenneth and her ambitions were stirred for her dearest chum. It would be pretty nice to be able to say, "My friend Mrs. Wilmer, wife of the artist, you know—"

Ever, as "Mrs. Mills of Lakeview." So Mary became elaborately diplomatic about Ken and refrained from mentioning Roger, though she need not have bothered since Eve had forgotten all about him.

Brainerd, Bush's Home Town, Resents Being Called a "Dot"

LATE Saturday afternoon as the writer was walking home he was hailed by a passing Ford and the driver halted and delivered a copy of the Philadelphia Inquirer of the date of April 8.

"We boys," said R. Lindberg, "found it in a packing box in the store room at the shops and when we looked through its pages we came across a writeup and picture of Joe Bush. It's interesting because it lets a lot of Bush's friends know what he is doing."

And it is a fine article by James C. Isaminger, veteran sports editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer, who has given Bush and incidentally Brainerd valuable publicity from the time Joe pitched his first game for the Athletics.

But when Mr. Isaminger makes a casual allusion to Brainerd, Minn., as a "tiny town" and again as a "dot" on the map, this city of 10,187 and over population rises in its might and resents both imputations.

A city which has the large railway shops, tie plant and other industries of the Northern Pacific railway and other manufacturing industries; which is the center of a summer tourist business and the virtual capital of an immense lake region; which is a rail and highway center; which has a new $450,000 high school as part of an extensive public school system; which has 22 or more churches, a public library and one of the finest Publix talkies theatres, which has fine hotels locally and three modern ones at the lakes; which has a tourist camp with gas, hot water, telephone, electric light and other accommodations housing in a season several thousand visitors; which has two banks with deposits totaling over $4,300,000.

The Brainerd retail trade area includes territory within a radius of 30 miles east and west, 40 miles north and 20 miles south. Included in this territory are 300 of Minnesota's 10,000 lakes, one of the greatest playgrounds for health and recreation in the United States.

Brainerd has near its city limits a section of the south area of the Cuyuna iron range. It is but 20 miles distant from the operating mines of the north Cuyuna range, center of great manganese deposits, which during the World War were sole source of supply of manganese for the United States.

Brainerd has three parks, a Brainerd Country club with a nine hole golf course, a Brainerd Musical club securing the best artists in the musical world for its concerts; many lodges and other societies, the Elks having the best club home and hotel in the northern part of Minnesota; an airport from which were operated two Ford tri-motors and some 20 other planes on its dedication day.

But why go on enumerating advantages which also include three newspapers in this city, the Brainerd Daily Dispatch using full leased wire service of the United Press.

C. F. Kindred, capitalist, at one time lived in Brainerd and later removed to Philadelphia. He would have resented calling a city like Brainerd a "tiny town" or "dot" on the map.

We acknowledge Isaminger as an authority in the world of sports but we people of Brainerd challenge his knowledge of geography.

Three of Hollywood's funniest comedians, Harry Green of "Kibitzer" fame, Skeets Gallagher and ZaSu Pitts are seen and heard at their hilarious best in support of Nancy Carroll in Paramount's delightfully gay musical comedy, "Honey." Rarely have these three been so uproariously diverting. From beginning to end, they carry on a line of chatter, work themselves in and out of complicated situations, fall in love and sing several song hits with contagious abandon and good cheer. Completely catching the youthful spirit of this delightful talking and singing picture, they romp through one amazing scene after the other, ably assisted at times by that 12 year old child actress, Mitzi Green who, to say the least, possesses a flair for comedy that is well high side-splitting.

"Honey" was directed by Wesley Ruggles who directed Ronald Colman's recent success, "Condemned." "Honey" will be presented at the Paramount theatre tonight and Wednesday.

BRAINERD ATHLETES AWARDED LETTERS AND NUMERALS TODAY

PRESENTATION MADE BEFORE
STUDENT ASSEMBLY BY
COACH KASCH

Contrary to the usual custom of giving athletic letters and numerals at a banquet in which only a few may participate, this year's presentation of awards was made before the entire student body in the high school auditorium this morning by Coach Warren E. Kasch. Athletes of last spring and this year, 1929-1930, were awarded for their prowess and for their attempts to further the glory of the Brainerd high school.

Lettermen were quite numerous and received emblems of which they may well be proud. Numerical winners who did not appear so conspicuously in the sport limelight, but who helped make possible the excellent showing of Warren's Warriors, are composed of sophomores and freshmen, primarily, altho three juniors did not desert the sports' ship.

Freshmen selected as members of their basketball team were not forgotten. Student managers were also honored for their efficient service to the athletic department.

After the letters had been awarded Miss Tornstrom announced the N. A. S. S. awards to the seven boys eligible for that honor. Only those boys who had won their letters in a major sport and had for three semesters had an average at least as high as that of the school were entitled to join the National Athletic Scholarship Society and wear the gold key that is the indication from coast to coast that the wearer belongs to the select group eligible for that honor.

PHYSICS CLASSES MAKE
TOUR OF BOILER ROOMS
By means of a tour through the ventilating and boiler rooms and the tunnel of the new high school the physics classes were given a very pleasant and profitable diversion last Thursday and Friday mornings by Mr. LaMeter. Mr. Shanks the day engineer acted as the guide and explained the workings of the various pieces of machinery and answered the questions asked by the students.

The boiler room was visited first. Here a half an hour was spent finding out just how the boilers were fired and controlled and the heat taken to all the rooms.

From the boiler room the students proceeded to the ventilating room and the tunnel. Here were many different pieces of machinery which controlled the fresh air to the class rooms, gym and auditorium, the air pressure in the building, the water in the shower rooms and the water from the boilers.

Sometime during this week the physics classes are planning to visit the shops and paper mill.

Jr. Hi-Y to Close Year
With Picnic at Lake

As a fitting close to this year's activities, the Junior Hi-Y will stage a picnic at one of the near by lakes, according to a decision made by the members of that organization at their regular meeting last Thursday night. President James Wieland appointed a committee to make the arrangements for the picnic.

A Junior Hi-Y kittenball team will be organized to compete with other Y. M. C. A. teams.

Three new members will be initiated at the final supper of the year to be held next Thursday at the Y. M. C. A.

Hi-Y Enjoys Delicious
Supper at Last Meeting

Mashed potatoes, Wieners and sauer kraut, bluns, fruit salad and cake, formed the beautiful and delicious supper served by Claude and Clarence Holden, and Ross Olmsted at the Hi-Y meeting which was held in the Y. M. C. A. social rooms last Wednesday at 6:30 o'clock.

Only about one half of the members of the organization were present. A picnic was discussed and a motion was made that the picnic be held at some suitable cottage on Gull Lake. The subject was brought up of painting the social rooms of the Y. This had been put into the form of a motion earlier in the year and had been passed, but at this meeting the motion was laid on the table.

EVELYN FINK PLACES
THIRD IN SHORTHAND

Shorthand honors were won by Park Rapids and Brainerd, respectively, in the district commercial contest staged in Brainerd last Saturday afternoon.

Evelyn Fink who placed third will be sent to compete in the state shorthand contest.

First and second places were taken in advanced typing by Park Rapids. Crosby received third place.

As results of the typing I contest, Aitkin, Staples and Park Rapids will send students to the state affair.

Contestants came from Aitkin, Staples, Crosby and Park Rapids to Brainerd to compete in the district event.

YE EDITOR

The old adage that we never miss the water till the well runs dry, is really well found in spite of its mid-Victorian origin. It is especially true concerning the sale of the annual.

Every year since the Brainerdian was first published seven years ago, the most difficult thing the staff has had to do is to convince the students that they will want a book and that they will not get one unless they pay for it before the edition goes to press.

Procrastination is the chief reason for the Brainerdian's financial distress: "Oh, why pay for it now, I'll pay for mine when they come out. The editor storms around and tells us that if we don't pay we don't get a book but he's kidding us. Anyway, I can't afford it. I've got to buy a milkshake tonight." And so when the distribution day rolls around we find the procrastinators tear-eyed and Brainerdian-less.

The year book goes to press tomorrow, so unless you have made a down payment, there is very little chance of getting a book when they come out. Make a down payment of 50c or 75c or a Brainerdian and insure your getting one.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB VISITS OLD FORT SITE SUNDAY

JUDGE KINDER DIRECTS HISTORICAL TOUR AT CROW WING AND FORT RIPLEY

With Judge L. B. Kinder acting as interpreter, thirty-five members of the Social Science club visited the site of the old fort at Fort Ripley, and the scene of famous battle between the Indians and the whites at Crow Wing, on an historical tour last Sunday afternoon. The club has heretofore concerned itself with local politics and social conditions but this trip was taken to arouse interest in the fascinating history of Crow Wing county, a purpose which was satisfactorily fulfilled.

A procession of ten cars left the high school building at two o'clock to meet again at the fort. Judge Kinder told the story of the time when the fort was in its hey-day. There is a little left now of that place but the powder magazine which is fast crumbling because of vandals and weather conditions. From there, the club went to a beautiful spot on the Mississippi near Crow Wing for a picnic. But the historical significance of the grounds were not overlooked as Judge Kinder again acted as narrator and guide. An old cemetery was visited with a few minor casualties as girls attempted to climb barbed wire fences and evade burrs.

Cemetery of Much Interest

The old burial grounds were found in a quiet, secluded spot near the Mississippi river. Marble for the markers had been imported in the frontier days to indicate that the passing of the pioneers as early as 1830 was not to be left unnoticed by posterity. Shadowy figures of Indian graves and white men seemed to lurk behind the trees as the members of the present generation wandered over hills and through woods to familiarize themselves with life in the adventuresome decades of the nineteenth century.

Back on the banks of the river the river history of the celebrated battle

MARIE SLOSS TO GIVE RECITAL WEDNESDAY

Brainerd school students are to be afforded a very great privilege in hearing Miss Marie Sloss of Carlton college in a piano recital at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon in the auditorium. Brainerd, Bush's Home Town, Resents Being Called a "Dot"

LATE Saturday afternoon as the writer was walking home he was hailed by a passing Ford and the driver halted and delivered a copy of the Philadelphia Inquirer of the date of April 8.

"We boys," said R. Lindberg, "found it in a packing box in the store room at the shops and when we looked through its pages we came across a writeup and picture of Joe Bush. It's interesting because it lets a lot of Bush's friends know what he is doing."

And it is a fine article by James C. Isaminger, veteran sports editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer, who has given Bush and incidentally Brainerd valuable publicity from the time Joe pitched his first game for the Athletics.

But when Mr. Isaminger makes a casual allusion to Brainerd, Minn., as a "tiny town" and again as a "dot" on the map, this city of 10,187 and over population rises in its might and resents both imputations.

A city which has the large railway shops, tie plant and other industries of the Northern Pacific railway and other manufacturing industries; which is the center of a summer tourist business and the virtual capital of an immense lake region; which is a rail and highway center; which has a new $450,000 high school as part of an extensive public school system; which has 22 or more churches, a public library and one of the finest Public talkies theatres, which has fine hotels locally and three modern ones at the lakes; which has a tourist camp with gas, hot water, telephone, electric light and other accommodations housing in a season several thousand visitors; which has two banks with deposits totaling over $4,300,000.

The Brainerd retail trade area includes territory within a radius of 30 miles east and west, 40 miles north and 20 miles south. Included in this territory are 300 of Minnesota's 10,000 lakes, one of the greatest playgrounds for health and recreation in the United States.

Brainerd has near its city limits a section of the south area of the Cuyuna iron range. It is but 20 miles distant from the operating mines of the north Cuyuna range, center of great manganese deposits, which during the World War were sole source of supply of manganese for the United States.

Brainerd has three parks, a Brainerd Country club with a nine hole golf course, a Brainerd Musical club securing the best artists in the musical world for its concerts; many lodges and other societies, the Elks having the best club home and hotel in the northern part of Minnesota; an airport from which were operated two Ford tri-motors and some 20 other planes on its dedication day.

But why go on enumerating advantages which also include three newspapers in this city, the Brainerd Daily Dispatch using full leased wire service of the United Press.

C. F. Kindred, capitalist, at one time lived in Brainerd and later removed to Philadelphia. He would have resented calling a city like Brainerd a "tiny town" or "dot" on the map.

We acknowledge Isaminger as an authority in the world of sports but we people of Brainerd challenge his knowledge of geography.

Three of Hollywood's funniest comedians, Harry Green of "Kibitzer" fame, Skeets Gallagher and ZaSu Pitts are seen and heard at their hilarious best in support of Nancy Carroll in Paramount's delightfully gay musical comedy, "Honey." Rarely have these three been so uproariously diverting. From beginning to end, they carry on a line of chatter, work themselves in and out of complicated situations, fall in love and sing several song hits with contagious abandon and good cheer. Completely catching the youthful spirit of this delightful talking and singing picture, they romp through one amazing scene after the other, ably assisted at times by that 12 year old child actress, Mitzi Green who, to say the least, possesses a flair for comedy that is well high side-splitting.

"Honey" was directed by Wesley Ruggles who directed Ronald Colman's recent success, "Condemned." "Honey" will be presented at the Paramount theatre tonight and Wednesday.

BRAINERD ATHLETES AWARDED LETTERS AND NUMERALS TODAY

PRESENTATION MADE BEFORE
STUDENT ASSEMBLY BY
COACH KASCH

Contrary to the usual custom of giving athletic letters and numerals at a banquet in which only a few may participate, this year's presentation of awards was made before the entire student body in the high school auditorium this morning by Coach Warren E. Kasch. Athletes of last spring and this year, 1929-1930, were awarded for their prowess and for their attempts to further the glory of the Brainerd high school.

Lettermen were quite numerous and received emblems of which they may well be proud. Numeral winners who did not appear so conspicuously in the sport limelight, but who helped make possible the excellent showing of Warren's Warriors, are composed of sophomores and freshmen, primarily, although three juniors did not desert the sports' ship.

Freshmen selected as members of their basketball team were not forgotten. Student managers were also honored for their efficient service to the athletic department.

PHYSICS CLASSES MAKE
TOUR OF BOILER ROOMS

By means of a tour through the ventilating and boiler rooms and the tunnel of the new high school the physics classes were given a very pleasant and profitable diversion last Thursday and Friday mornings by Mr. LaMeter. Mr. Shanks the day engineer acted as the guide and explained the workings of the various pieces of machinery and answered the questions asked by the students.

The boiler room was visited first. Here a half an hour was spent finding out just how the boilers were fired and controlled and the heat taken to all the rooms.

From the boiler room the students proceeded to the ventilating room and the tunnel. Here were many different pieces of machinery which controlled the fresh air to the class rooms, gym and auditorium, the air pressure in the building, the water in the shower rooms and the water from the boilers.

Sometime during this week the physics classes are planning to visit the shops and paper mill.

As a fitting close to this year's activities, the Junior Hi-Y will stage a picnic at one of the near by lakes, according to a decision made by the members of that organization at their regular meeting last Thursday night. President James Wieland appointed a committee to make the arrangements for the picnic.

A Junior Hi-Y kittenball team will be organized to compete with other Y. M. C. A. teams.

Three new members will be initiated at the final supper of the year to be held next Thursday at the Y. M. C. A.

Hi-Y Enjoys Delicious
Supper at Last Meeting

Mashed potatoes, wieners and sauer kraut, bluns, fruit salad and cake, formed the bountiful and delicious supper served by Claude and Clarence Holden, and Ross Olmsted at the Hi-Y meeting which was held in the Y. M. C. A. social rooms last Wednesday at 6:30 o'clock.

Only about one half of the members of the organization were present. A picnic was discussed and a motion was made that the picnic be held at some suitable cottage on Gull Lake. The subject was brought up of painting the social rooms of the Y. This had been put into the form of a motion earlier in the year and had been passed, but at this meeting the motion was laid on the table.

YE EDITOR

The old adage that we never miss the water till the well runs dry, is really well found in spite of its mid-Victorian origin. It is especially true concerning the sale of the annual.

Every year since the Brainonian was first published seven years ago, the most difficult thing the staff has had to do is to convince the students that they will want a book and that they will not get one unless they pay for it before the edition goes to press.

Procrastination is the chief reason for the Brainonian's financial distress: "Oh, why pay for it now, I'll pay for mine when they come out. The editor storms around and tells us that if we don't pay we don't get a book but he's kidding us. Anyway, I can't afford it. I've got to buy a milkshake tonight." And so when the distribution day rolls around we find the procrastinators tear-eyed and Brainonian-less.

The year book goes to press tomorrow, so unless you have made a down payment, there is very little chance of getting a book when they come out. Make a down payment of 50¢ or 75¢ on a Brainonian and insure your getting one. D. E.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB VISITS OLD FORT SITE SUNDAY

JUDGE KINDER DIRECTS HISTORICAL TOUR AT CROW WING AND FORT RIPLEY

With Judge L. B. Kinder acting as interpreter, thirty-five members of the Social Science club visited the site of the old fort at Fort Ripley, and the scene of famous battle between the Indians and the whites at Crow Wing, on an historical tour last Sunday afternoon. The club has heretofore concerned itself with local politics and social conditions but this trip was taken to arouse interest in the fascinating history of Crow Wing county, a purpose which was satisfactorily fulfilled.

A procession of ten cars left the high school building at two o'clock to meet again at the fort. Judge Kinder told the story of the time when the fort was in its hey-day. There is a little left now of that place but the powder magazine which is fast crumbling because of vandals and weather conditions. From there, the club went to a beautiful spot on the Mississippi near Crow Wing for a picnic. But the historical significance of the grounds were not overlooked as Judge Kinder again acted as narrator and guide. An old cemetery was visited with a few minor casualties as girls attempted to climb barbed wire fences and evade burrs.

Cemetery of Much Interest
The old burial grounds were found in a quiet, secluded spot near the Mississippi river. Marble for the markers had been imported in the frontier days to indicate that the passing of the pioneers as early as 1830 was not to be left unnoticed by posterity. Shadowy figures of Indian braves and white men seemed to lurk behind the trees as the members of the present generation wandered over hills and through woods to familiarize themselves with life in the adventuresome decades of the nineteenth century.

Back on the banks of the river the river history of the celebrated battle

NOTE: The Dispatch is pleased to publish this review of Joe Bullet Bush's rise as a manager of Allentown, Pa., team as written by our old friend James C. Isaminger, sports editor of The Philadelphia Inquirer. Brainerd has always had a kind feeling for Isaminger who has always given Brainerd and Bush much publicity, but Brainerd resents being termed a "tiny town" and a "dot" on the map, and this allusion is given an editorial broadside.

By JAMES C. ISAMINGER

Bullet Joe Bush, the new manager of the Allentown team of the Eastern League, motored to Philadelphia yesterday radiating optimism over the prospects of his team this year.

"Outside of my batteries, I have seven regulars who can fairly skim along the base paths. Any time a grounder takes two hops, these players are fast enough to beat it out."

"We have been working out since March 19 and the speed of my new team has set all the fans talking. I believe I have a wonderful shortstop in Mickey Noonan, who was with Detroit in 1928. During the winter we bought him from the Springfield, O., team of the Central League."

"He covers lots of ground and can stop ground balls in back of third. He is a good right-handed hitter, too."

"At second base we have another speed merchant in Guy Lacey, who once had a trial with Cleveland. For third base we have Lloyd Heagerty, who was with the Yanks at the end of the 1929 season. We got him during the winter, but Manager Bob Shawkey let Heagerty train with the Yanks this spring and he joned us. He is a heavy left-handed hitter."

"Our first baseman is Art Bourg, who bats and throws left-handed. I landed him from Rube Marquard's Jacksonville, Fla., club. He fits in the infield well."

Three Southpaw Gardeners

"For the outfield we have Red Jarratt, Harry Hesse, Bob Grant and Connie Hurley. All are left-handed hitters excepting Hurley and all are speed merchants. Jarratt hit above the .300 mark for Reading last season. Hesse hit .346 in 1929. He was once with Albany."

"Grant is a Californian who played with Bridgeport in 1929 and finished the season with Allentown. He bats left-handed against right-handed pitchers and right-handed against southpaws."

"Hurley was once with the Giants and then sent to Toledo. We acquired him from the Ohio club during the winter."

"We have three catchers in Conklin, Evans and Aronawitz. Conklin played with the Springfield team of the Central League last season and batted around the .350 mark. Joey Evans is a product of Muhlenberg, while Aronawitz came to Allentown last season from the Paterson Silk Sox."

"Our pitchers are Levy, Jelliff, Pipgras and Schreiber, right-handers and Buddy Walker and Hyman, southpaws. Levy was with the Giants in 1928 and with Bridgeport in 1929. After we bought him Reading offered $4000 for him, but we rejected the offer. Jelliff was with last year's team. Ed Pipgras is the younger brother of George Pipgras, of the Yanks, and he is as fully as fast as his distinguished brother and I predict he will be in the big leagues some day. Schreiber was once with Brooklyn. Hyman was with last year's team."

Buddy Walker, Philadelphia boy, once with the Phillies, is now in the Allentown hospital suffering from a serious accident. During practice he stepped in a rut in the ground and twisted his ankle. It didn't heal properly and surgeons had to cut a hole in the bone. He is still in the hospital and physicians say he will be lost to us from six weeks to possibly three months so we can't count on Bud at present.

The Eastern League is a Class A loop, only a notch below the International, Pacific and the American Association in rating.

Charles Gerlach is president of the Allentown club, while William Willenbecker is the secretary.

Every effort is being made by officers of the club to stir interest in the Allentown club. Since the training season began, Bullet Joe has made addresses at twelve luncheons and fifteen banquets. He has made talks in Bethlehem, Catsaqua and Northampton, as well as Allentown.

Allentown will open the Eastern League championship season at home with New Haven on April 16 and the Dukes expect a capacity crowd as a result of their intensive pep campaign.

This is Bush's first venture in a managerial role, but already he has shown every qualification of leadership. His energetic efforts have stirred new interest in the Allentown team and everything points to a successful season.

The tiny town of Brainerd, Minn., was the birthplace of two distinguished fighters, who were destined to win enduring fame for valor both in the championship season and the world's series.

It was a coincidence that both products of this dot on the map did their best work flying the colors of Connie Mack. The name of one of these stars is Chief Bender and the other is Joseph Leslie Bush.

(By United Press)

Washington's Senators, the "dark horse" sensation of the 1930 American League race, today will attempt to extend their winning streak to eight straight at the expense of the tail end New York Yankees.

Shortstop Joe Cronin led the attack which gave the Nats a 6 to 5 win over the Yankees, yesterday. Cronin made three of his team's 7 hits, collecting a double, a triple and a homer to drive in three runs.

The New York Giants' seven game winning streak was ended when Harvey Hendrick's double with the bases loaded in the ninth gave the Brooklyn of the season.

Four home runs by the Chicago Cubs halted the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-game winning streak and prevented the Bucs from taking the National League lead. Catcher Gabby Hartnett hit two of the homers and his battery mate, Charley Root, clouted another in the 7 to 5 victory. Root allowed 11 hits but had 9 strikeouts.

The Philadelphia Athletics made four runs in the ninth inning, without a hit, and beat the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 4. Danny MacFayden, who had held the A's to 5 hits in eight innings, lost control and Ed Morris, who relieved him, also was wild.

Peter Jablonowski held the St. Louis Browns to five hits and gave Cleveland a 3 to 1 victory. The defeat dropped the Browns from second to fifth place in the American League standings.

Chicago's White Sox bunched eight hits for a 9 to 7 victory over Detroit and moved into second place.

The Cincinnati Reds dropped their eighth game in 11 starts to the St. Louis Cardinals, 8 to 3, and took possession of the National League cellar. Clarence Mitchell, the Cards starting pitcher, and First Baseman George Kelly of the Reds were retired by injuries. Andy High turned in the base running feature of the contest in scoring from first on Frisch's single.

Grover Cleveland Alexander allow-

Robins three runs and a 6 to 4 victory. It was the Giant's first defeat of the Boston Braves four runs in five innings but Harold Elliott pitched scoreless ball and the Phillies won, 7 to 4.

Association Tabs

Thirteenth champion Kansas City Blues lost their third straight game here yesterday to Columbus by a score of 11 to 4. The Blues collected thirteen hits off of Winters and Maxton, but were unable to place the blows in paying spots. Columbus got their 11 runs with only 12 hits.

Indianapolis came from behind in the ninth inning here yesterday to win from Minneapolis, 4 to 3. An error and a single allowed the winning runs to pass. Indianapolis used three hurlers while Lundgren went the whole route for the losers.

St. Paul at Louisville, rain. Milwaukee at Toledo, rain.

Whitehall, Wis., April 29.—(UP)—George Casper, 50, Alma Center farmer, died at a hospital here early today of shotgun wounds allegedly inflicted by Herman Millette, his neighbor. Officials of Jackson county, where the shooting occurred, were seeking Millette today and said he was thought to be hiding somewhere in nearby marshes which are known locally as the "bad lands."

What millions of Motorists are saying about VEEDOL MOTOR OIL

"If it's good enough for the Graf Zeppelin
If it's good enough for the Byrd Expedition

This famous oil gives premium quality at no extra cost

No longer need you concern yourself with the conflicting claims made for various motor oils.

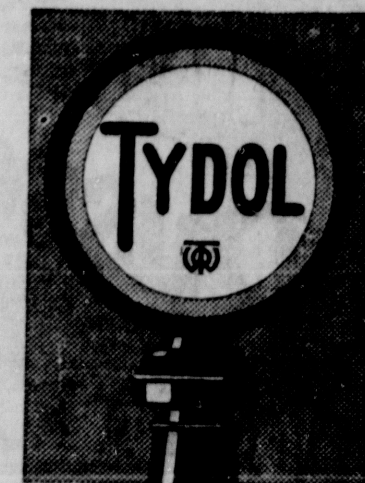

Performance is the thing that counts.

And VEEDOL has proved in the engines of the Graf Zeppelin and the planes of the Byrd Expedition that no other motor oil in the world can furnish better protection for your car.

What is the use of worrying about technical claims . . . about where the oil comes from or how it is blended . . . when a man like Dr. Hugo Eckener, Commander of the Graf Zeppelin, is willing to say—

"If we had paid $1.00 a quart for our oil we couldn't have gotten better performance than we did with VEEDOL."

Here is the same oil for your motor that took the Graf Zeppelin around the world and took Rear Admiral Byrd safely over the South Pole on the most hazardous flight in aviation history. Even if you drive a $10,000 car you cannot get better motor oil than VEEDOL.

The most durable type of grates in the world are used in the Torrid Zone Warm Air Furnace. They are of the special rocking design as used in locomotives and are controlled from the outside by a long-handled "lazy" shaker. Hardly more effort is required to shake them than is used in brushing the teeth. Any woman can do it—and she could do it in a party dress without fear of dust or dirt because of the unusually tight-fitting doors.

The Torrid Zone is the ideal furnace for the fine residence and is made in types and sizes for homes of every class and for schools, churches, stores and office buildings. There are combination hot water and warm air types and others equipped with electric blowers for large scale operating. NOTE: The Dispatch is pleased to publish this review of Joe Bullet Bush's rise as a manager of Allentown, Pa. team as written by our old friend James C. Isaminger, sports editor of The Philadelphia Inquirer. Brainerd has always had a kind feeling for Isaminger who has always given Brainerd and Bush much publicity, but Brainerd resents being termed a "tiny town" and a "dot" on the map, and this allusion is given an editorial broadside.

By JAMES C. ISAMINGER

Bullet Joe Bush, the new manager of the Allentown team of the Eastern League, motored to Philadelphia yesterday radiating optimism over the prospects of his team this year.

"Outside of my batteries, I have seven regulars who can fairly skim along the base paths. Any time a grounder takes two hops, these players are fast enough to beat it out."

"We have been working out since March 19 and the speed of my new team has set all the fans talking. I believe I have a wonderful shortstop in Mickey Noonan, who was with Detroit in 1928. During the winter we bought him from the Springfield, O. team of the Central League."

"He covers lots of ground and can stop ground balls in back of third. He is a good right-handed hitter, too."

"At second base we have another speed merchant in Guy Lacey, who once had a trial with Cleveland. For third base we have Lloyd Heagerty, who was with the Yanks at the end of the 1929 season. We got him during the winter, but Manager Bob Shawkey let Heagerty train with the Yanks this spring and he joined us. He is a heavy left-handed hitter."

"Our first baseman is Art Bourg, who bats and throws left-handed. I landed him from Rube Marquard's Jacksonville, Fla. club. He fits in the infield well."

Three Southpaw Gardeners
"For the outfield we have Red Jarratt, Harry Hesse, Bob Grant and Connie Hurley. All are left-handed hitters excepting Hurley and all are speed merchants. Jarratt hit above the .300 mark for Reading last season. Hesse hit .346 in 1929. He was once with Albany."

"Grant is a Californian who played with Bridgeport in 1929 and finished the season with Allentown. He bats left-handed against right-handed pitchers and right-handed against southpaws."

"Hurley was once with the Giants and then sent to Toledo. We acquired him from the Ohio club during the winter."

"We have three catchers in Conklin, Evans and Aronowitz. Conklin played with the Springfield team of the Central League last season and batted around the .350 mark. Joey Evans is a product of Muhlenberg, while Aronowitz came to Allentown last season from the Paterson Silk Sox."

"Our pitchers are Levy, Jelliff, Pipgras and Schreiber, right-handers and Buddy Walker and Hyman, southpaws. Levy was with the Giants in 1928 and with Bridgeport in 1929. After we bought him Reading offered

Miss Sloss very generously is giving time from her college duties to come to Brainerd for this specific purpose and it is hoped that a large audience will be there to enjoy the music.

The musical leader, Berlin, has this to say of her while she was studying several years under the great musical leader of that musical metropolis: "Her remarkable technique coupled with an apparently inexhaustible fund of temperament and vitality would alone serve to make her a most interesting player even did she not have the charm of a distinct personality and a subtle mental grasp of the music she plays."

Few have a true appreciation of the far-reaching effect of Stock Fire Insurance in holding down the cost of all merchandise.

No less authority than the Encyclopedia Britannica contributes a "testimonial" as follows:

"In the United States, as in no other country, has insurance in all its various phases become universally recognized as an essential of commerce and industry. To this fact may be attributed in large measure the achievements of America in business enterprises.

"Insurance encourages men and corporations to hazard their resources on new developments without fear of loss from natural and unavoidable catastrophes."

At every turn in the processing of materials—storage, manufacturing, transportation, wholesaling, retailing—the protection of Stock Fire Insurance contributes that indispensable element of certainty without loading prices for speculative risk.

By paying a premium which on the average is only a fraction of 1% of the amount insured, business transfers to the Stock Fire Insurance companies what would otherwise be an oppressive carrying charge against the risk of destruction by fire.

The 239 Stock Fire Insurance companies constituting the National Board of Fire Underwriters have rendered their services at an average price that has constantly declined for more than twenty years.

FOURTH INNING RALLY ENABLES SINCLAIRS TO WIN

SERVICE NEWS TAKES LOW END 83 COUNT IN D-BALL GAME

PENNEY TEAM TO DEFEND PERFECT RECORD AGAINST THE BRAIN SPRINGS TONIGHT

A stirring fourth inning rally enabled the Sinclair Oil Co. to defeat the Service News Agency, 8 to 3, in the city diamondball league last evening. The game was hard fought from the beginning and it wasn't until late in the game that the winners were able to put the game on ice.

Waldman, pitched for the winners, allowing six hits and retired eight batters via the strike out. Hickerson, twirled for the losers, and gave up ten hits, issued seven passes but was nearly invincible in pinches.

The Oilers started the scoring in the first inning when Olson doubled and tallied on Thompson's two-bagger. They added two more counters in the second frame when Bernard and Fitzsimmons drew passes and both dented the plate on Blank's hit.

The Service News Agency scored their first run in the third inning when O'Brien hit a long home run into left field. The Oilers came back in the fourth inning to score five runs and tuck the game away. Blank singled, advanced when Olson walked, both scored on Welsh's single, who in turn scored when Nutting hit a home run. Thompson, continued the rally by poking a single into centerfield and went to third on Waldman's one base single, then Bernard sent Thompson home with a hit into right field. The Service News rallied in the first half of the fifth to tally two runs. L. Hickerson drove out a single, went to second on A. Hickerson's hit and both crossed the plate on Larson's one base walk.

Tonight the J. C. Penney Co. will defend their perfect record when they tangle with the Braino Spring Beavers. The game will begin promptly at 6:15 o'clock.

FOURTH INNING RALLY ENABLES SINCLAIRS TO WIN

SERVICE NEWS TAKES LOW END 8-3 COUNT IN D-BALL GAME

PENNEY TEAM TO DEFEND PERFECT RECORD AGAINST THE BRAINERD SPRINGS TONIGHT

A stirring fourth inning rally enabled the Sinclair Oil Co. to defeat the Service News Agency, 8 to 3, in the city diamondball league last evening. The game was hard fought from the beginning and it wasn't until late in the game that the winners were able to put the game on ice.

Waldman, pitched for the winners, allowing six hits and retired eight batters via the strike out route. Hickerson, twirled for the losers, and gave up ten hits, issued seven passes but was nearly invincible in pinches.

The Oilers started the scoring in the first inning when Olson doubled and tallied on Thompson's two-bagger. They added two more counters in the second frame when Bernard and Fitzsimmons drew passes and both dented the plate on Black's hit.

The Service News Agency scored their first run in the third inning when O'Brien hit a long home run to left field. The Oilers came back in the fourth inning to score five runs and tuck the game away. Black singled, advanced when Olson walked, both scored on Welsh's single, who in turn scored when Nutting hit a home run. Thompson, continued the rally by poking a single into centerfield and went to third on Waldman's one base single, then, Bernard sent Thompson home with a hit into right field. The Service News rallied in the first half of the fifth to tally two runs. L. Hickerson drove out a single, went to second on A. Hickerson's hit and both crossed the plate on Larson's one base wallop.

Tonight the J. C. Penney Co. will defend their perfect record when they tangle with the Brainerd Spring Braves. The game will begin promptly at 6:15 o'clock.
